THERE'S NO hangover heat

Most women prefer gas because it gives you perfect control of temperature on top of the range, in the oven, in the broiler. New gas burner-with-a-brain gives the same automatic performance on top burners as you enjoy with your oven. No range could be more automatic. And no other fuel offers instant high heat, unlimited control plus no hangover heat for cooler cooking. With gas, off means off. Go modern; go gas. Most women do!

Echoes From The Legislative Halls

By Ken Mason

EDMONTON—The Alberta government has survived its second motion of non-confidence based on the controversial plan to pay oil and gas royalty dividends to citizens.

Opposition Leader J. Harper Prowse introduced the motion in the form of an amendment to the routine government motion that the dividend bill be given second reading.

The motion was defeated 33-17 by the Social Credit majority, whose members are determined to pass the measure under which $11,000,000 would be set aside from oil and gas royalties to pay dividends to Canadian citizens over 21 who have lived in the province five successive years.

Mr. Prowse's motion would have had the effect of killing the bill and defeating the government. It said the dividend bill should not be dealt with until all requirements are fully satisfied for educational facilities, health and hospital facilities, conservation of natural resources, roads and public works, and assistance to the poor and needy.

Opposition members closed ranks to attack the dividend plan but unfortunately most of their arguments were repetition of what was said in the first non-confidence motion a few weeks ago during the budget debate.

The main arguments are the money could be put to better use, and that the principle of making direct payments to citizens is morally wrong and sets a dangerous precedent.

Premier Manning and F. C. Colborne, minister without portfolio, have carried the ball for the government so far on the dividend bill.

The premier said the people own the natural resources of the province and have a right to participate directly in their development. He said the dividend plan was at the bottom of the list of priority needs, and added that other needs are being met "adequately, equitably and generously."

Mr. Colborne labelled the Opposition arguments "political tripe" and was immediately called to order by the Speaker who ruled that "political tripe" is unparliamentary language.

The minister without portfolio said all the arguments could be used with as much validity against the federal government's bonus plan and the $100,000,000 being granted to develop culture.

He found it strange that the Opposition felt the money should be used to help reduce municipal taxes. Under a tax rebate scheme the biggest benefits would go to the wealthy people who own the most expensive property while the dividend would go to everyone.

Mr. Colborne was confident that when the people understand the dividend plan and realize the principle behind it they will recognize it as a progressive step.

Opposition spokesmen were equally sure the principle behind it they will recognize it as a progressive step.

Opposition spokesmen were equally sure the principle behind it is purely political and an attempt by the Social Credit government to keep itself in power through bribing the public.

Liberal Abe Miller from Edmonton took Premier Manning to task over the words "adequately, equitably and generously." He quoted figures on the amounts pensioners receive in Alberta and challenged anyone on the government side to say the payments are adequate, equitable or generous.

He also pointed out that the $11,000,000, distributed among pensioners, would give every one of them $375 a year. At the time of writing no government spokesman had answered that.

The Opposition made a stubborn stand even though it was a little one and they knew it. There is no doubt that the dividend will go through and Albertans will be receiving what one Opposition member called "palace treasury money from the great white father."

One of the liveliest fights of the current session developed over amendments to the Town and Village Act which Opposition members claim will force municipalities to distribute free publicity favorable to the government.

Under the amendment, the minister of municipal affairs can require a municipal council to include on its tax notice estimated amounts expected to be received from the government in grants and other aid, and their effect on the mill rate. A similar amendment is being made to the City Act.

If any village, town or city fails to comply, the government would be empowered to withhold all moneys payable. The measure was described as "holding a gun to the head of municipalities," while government spokesmen said it was nothing more than an attempt to show taxpayers how and where their money is being spent.

It was attacked mainly on the ground that it would saddle local councils with extra expense when the government could just as easily prepare and mail its own statements. The government voted down an Opposition bid to have the section of the bill removed.

The current session of the House is expected to end within two weeks or so, unless something unforeseen develops.

Twenty bills were given third reading last week and Chief Justice C. J. Ford of the Supreme Court gave them Royal Assent. He is taking over for Lieutenant-Governor Dr. J. J. Bowlen, who is on vacation in Arizona.

It is the first time since his appointment in 1950 that the governor has been absent for as long a time. He may be back in time to prorogue the House and assent to the rest of the bills.

Sweeping amendments to the Liquor Control Act, based on recommendations of the eight-man House liquor committee, were approved in principle and given second reading.

The main change is the abolition of the individual permit system for purchasing liquor. There was no mention of the province-wide plebiscite on liquor, because that will be under the Election Act and requires no change in the Liquor Act.

In 1939 tax payments per family in Canada averaged out to less than $300 a year; current figure is about $2,000.

Home Economist Newsnotes

—Your District Home Economist,
Edna M. Craig.

Hello Homemakers:

APRIL—Fluid Milk Month

Milk is a valuable food. As farming people we are close to the source of supply and should use milk frequently. Since milk provides several of the essentials in our diet it is important that we have milk in some form daily. As you know children should receive about five cups of milk and adults at least two daily. It isn't necessary to drink it all; there are many ways to use milk. As a treat for the children, blend fruit juice with milk with an egg beater. This gives the effect of a milk shake, especially if the milk is cold. Use milk in cream soups and sauces; in puddings and desserts.

If you would like leaflets on the use of milk in a variety of ways, they are available from me at Wainwright.

Find "Lost" Boys Asleep in Car

(From The Viking News)

A couple of youngsters caused some anxious moments for their parents last Friday evening.

Cameron McArthur, age 6, and Eddy Fugel, age 8 did not come home at the usual hour and by 11 p.m. were still missing. Finally after searching for almost four hours they were found asleep in Mrs. McArthur in an old abandoned car at 12:30 midnight.

Many thanks are extended by their parents to Russell Hanson, Pete McArthur Jr., Mrs. Fandrick, the police and many others for their assistance.

At the end of World War II the average weekly wage in Canadian manufacturing plants was $30 per week, is now $65 per week.

Growing of Rape Seed Increases in Canada

The growing of rape seed is increasing in Western Canada. 357,000 acres were seeded last year of which 32,000 acres were in Alberta. The seed is used for the production of marine engine oil and the cheaper grades of edible oil. A fairly substantial market has developed in the Orient.

There are two main types grown in Canada. Of the Argentine type, Golden is the highest yielding, and best oil-producing variety and is the most resistant to lodging. It requires ample moisture and 90 to 100 days to ripen. The Polish type varieties ripen in 70 to 85 days and yield about 70 percent as much as Golden with abundant moisture, but equally as well under dry conditions.

Seed should be free from mustard and tested for germination. It should be seeded about 10 lbs. to the acre, 1 to 1½ inches deep on clean soil. Rape will not compete with weeds and is susceptible to weed killers. It grows best on the dark or grey wooded soils and should not be seeded in dry areas. Seed drills should be used and, if necessary, chop or fertilizer mixed with seed to maintain rate of sowing.

Rape grows 2½ to 3½ feet tall. The foliage is similar to turnip leaves and the blossom is like mustard or turnip flowers. It is best harvested by combining or swathing. It thrives readily but shells easily in the wind when ripe. Golden should be threshed clean, or cleaned afterwards, before marketing. Yields run up to 2,000 lbs. per acre with 1,000 lbs. being average in a good season. The price to the producer this year has been around 2½ cents per pound.

Seeds are small and heavy, closely resembling turnip seed, and flow readily. Storage bins must be tight or the seed bogs. Seed containing over 10.5 percent moisture will spoil quickly and should be turned often.

Both federal and provincial governments advise growing rape seed under contract. Information re seed and contracts can be obtained from the J. Gordon Ross Syndicate, Moose Jaw, or the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool vegetable oil plant at Saskatoon.

The vote by secret ballot was first used in a national election in Canada in 1878.

Care Of Calves

The new calf crop is arriving now and it will never be easier to dehorn and castrate than it is while the calves are small and easy to handle. Dehorning is easy and effective using caustic paste, stick caustic or electric dehorner. There is less ill effects on the calf when dehorned young than if left until after and if any of the accepted methods of dehorning are used properly they all do a good job.

Now is a good time to make plans for creep feeding your calves this summer. This practice can make a difference of 100 to 150 lbs. in the weight of your calves at a year of age.

Farm Safety

Soon we will be into the time of long hours and everyone in a hurry. Let's not have anyone in this district being cause for newspaper headlines because of a serious accident. Most accidents are avoidable and the easiest way to avoid such a tragedy is to think before you move. Tractors and machinery can be dangerous, but they are more dangerous to children and passengers than to operators, so don't let children play around where machinery is working and don't carry passengers on tractors and other machinery.

If your tractor gets stuck it is easier to pull it out than to fix it up after it has tipped or rolled. Let's keep this year accident free.

Weed Control

Records from Experimental Farms show that weeds were not nearly as prevalent in fields which were worked lightly and then left for about ten days before being worked again and seeded. It is not always possible to do this but perhaps this system of cultivation has been neglected more than it should be in many cases. One of the best control measures is not to seed weeds, yet nearly 40 percent of the seed samples checked by seed drill survey are graded as rejected because of weed seeds.

THE TALE OF THE LONELY SPRAY RIG

(sitting in the corner because it can't get the parts to keep going!)

Once upon a time, in a land not far distant from this, a farmer purchased a spray rig. He was indeed proud of it. The first year, he made use of it and found to his surprise that everything the maker had said about the rig was true. It sprayed well and truly, and the farmer saw his crops grow in abundance having been relieved of the weeds that once hindered them.

The next year, however, the spray rig would not work. Its pump had to be replaced. But when the farmer tried to locate the maker, he could not. Indeed, he learned that the maker had neither agents nor representatives in the district.

Now the rig lies lonely in the fence corner. It toils not, neither does it spray. It rusts.

Moral: Your equipment is only as good as the integrity of its manufacturer, and the ease with which you can obtain those small but essential replacement parts. National Grain Company has a representative in your district, who is truly interested in keeping your goodwill. He can give you service immediately on sprayers or chemicals of almost every kind. Call on him, won't you?

Under the Provisions of the Public Services Vehicles Act the Council may prohibit the use of any district road, local road, or portion thereof by any truck, trailer, or traction engine and the said Public Services Vehicles Act and the Highways Traffic Board do not provide for the control as contemplated in this Bylaw.

THEREFORE

The Council of the Municipal District of Wainwright No. 61 enacts as follows: The term "truck" shall include all trucks with a rated capacity of one ton or more and the term "tractor" shall include traction engines operated on wheel and also such motor vehicles as run on tracks.

No person shall operate any truck, trailer, or tractor on any district road, local road or portion thereof without permission of the Councillor in the division in which the vehicle is operating during any rain storm or during a rainy season or at any time when the said vehicle breaks through the surface of the roadway or causes rutting or breaks chunks of road materials from the road bed.

Any person or persons who are found guilty of a breach of this Bylaw shall be guilty of an offence, and liable on summary conviction for a first offence to a penalty of not more than twenty-five ($25.00) dollars and costs, for a second offence to a penalty of not more than Fifty ($50.00) dollars and costs, for a third or subsequent offences to a penalty of not more than one hundred ($100.00) dollars and costs.

DONE AND PASSED

In Council this 2nd day of September A.D. 1954. This Bylaw to be effective Fifteen (15) days after the passing of this Bylaw, 1st - 2nd - 3rd and final readings this 2nd day of September A.D. 1954.

BOUGHT GOOD BULLS AT SPRING SALE

(From The Viking News)

At the spring livestock show and sale held at Edmonton last week several local farmers purchased some good bulls that will improve the herds in the district. The Hereford Champion bull was purchased by W. E. Neuring, and others buying good bulls were Sam Swift, Sorenson Bros., Mattinson Bros. and Chas. Maxwell.

Clem Loughlin paid $2300.00 for a Shorthorn bull of high pedigree at the Calgary sale.
